Assessment on PBM Reform Act

Earlier this week, President Donald J. Trump signed into law a bill that includes major pharmacy benefit manager (PBM) reforms aimed at reducing pharmacy costs by increasing transparency and enhancing plan sponsor and member data access.

ProCare Rx has been committed to ClearSight Transparency for our almost 4 decades of providing PBM services – complete and open access to ‘your’ data, and an understanding of how costs and funds are used. Based on our initial review, we already meet the transparent, pass-through, data-rich, and free of rebate-linked incentives intent of the federal government’s preferred PBM model contemplated in this new legislation.

Our ClearSight Transparency model and robust Business Intelligence tools and contracts already allow our clients access to full details of pharmacy reimbursement and administrative billing for their members’ claims and the pass-through reporting of rebate remuneration.

ProCare Rx:

- Operates with transparent, pass-through-friendly models
- Provides robust data access and claims-level visibility
- Ensures clinical decisions are net-cost and evidence-based, not rebate-driven
- Prepares for 2029 reporting and transparency requirements
- Supports ERISA fiduciaries with tools for prudent oversight

These points provide a stable, compliant, future-ready PBM partner.

We will continue to provide the highest level of service, transparency and stability to your operations.

In summary, we anticipate:

- No immediate changes to your benefits or PBM contract
- No disruption to members or plan operations
- Clear alignment between ProCare Rx’s model and the federal transparency direction
- Future-ready for the 2029 employer-plan PBM rules
